Check the right side of your screen!

Scoreboard 1	Scoreboard 2

On the right side of your screen, there is something called the Scoreboard. It says MINESEED in a red gradient at the top. This is a quick way to see your in-game stats.

The first line tells you how much in-game money you have. You can see your exact balance by doing /balance or /bal. You can also set your scoreboard to /scoreboard2 to see your exact balance.

The next line is Souls. Souls are the currency for the /soul shop, which rotates every 8 hours to provide different options to purchase special items. You can grind for souls at the mob farms on the server. Feel free to ask for some public warps in the Mineseed chat, and someone will direct you!

The next part of the YOU section is related to your Land. The first line tells you what world you are in.

Blocks tells you how many blocks you have to claim land. You cannot create claims without blocks.

The last line is the Resource World and Nether countdown. The Resource World is an overworld that has been created for our players to get stuff they may need for their builds or storage. It resets every week, so there is no shortage of stuff to collect. To visit it, do /rw tp. To visit the Nether, do /rw tp nether or go through a nether portal. You cannot claim land in the nether (or end).

To hide the scoreboard, use /toggle.
